

A top-down view of a Raksha Bandhan celebration. On the left, a brown cardboard gift box is tied with a thick gold rope. A red tag with white text is attached to the box. In the center-right, a brass plate holds two round, golden-brown sweets (laddus) on a white paper liner. Surrounding the sweets are various items: a small brass bowl with white powder, a purple sweet, a small bowl of yellow powder, and a small ring. Jewelry, including a necklace with a large diamond and a green gemstone, and a bracelet with a green gemstone, are scattered around. Yellow and orange marigold flowers are placed around the items. A small brass bowl with a lit diya is visible in the top right corner. The background is a dark grey surface.
